

TAXES

Governments can get money in various ways. For example, they can charge fees for such things as driver's licenses. But almost every government gets money simply by demanding a mandatory contribution from its citizens. This money is called taxes.

CORA
 Grade 7 | Peyton