

Financial goals are outcomes or results that people plan to attain and are often expressed in terms of money. Short term goals should be attainable in less than a year, medium term goals in one to five years, and long term goals may take more than five years.

MATTHEW
Grade 8 | Wiley